

3_20_15 D Price Opening Day starter at 11.09 AM

📅 Wed, Feb 11, 2026 1:18PM ⌚ 4:59

SUMMARY KEYWORDS

Opening Day, starter, honor, surprise, pride, competitive, Verlander, Tigers, Comerica Park, atmosphere, business decision, Cy Young, pitching, excitement, baseball.

SPEAKERS

David Price, Lynn Henning, Anthony Fenech, Chris Iott, Chris McCosky

C Chris McCosky 00:00
You Did it surprise. I mean, you'd said before you were that wasn't really thrown on your mind. Yeah, it was, it was surprising. It was very surprising here for for so long, and I know how many opening day starts he had, and that's, that's kind of a rarity, especially in today's game. So it's, it was surprising.

C Chris Iott 00:05

C Chris McCosky 00:25
How do you feel about, I mean, it's the point of pride. Is it? What is your overall just,

D David Price 00:29
definitely, I'm, I'm extremely honored, you know, to take the ball on that day, because it is very special day in baseball. And, you know, it's, it caught me by surprise, to say the least. Definitely thought that it would be burr out there, but he just told me, congrats, boss. To anybody in baseball, you know he would. He's happy that it was me, and he hopes that I would be here next year so he can win it back. So I definitely appreciated him saying that to me, but I'm excited it's gonna be a little bit more different than, a little bit different than in Tampa Bay, there's a lot of people, and we had sold out crowds and Open Day, bro. We'll start that next question.

Anthony Fenech

David Price 01:03

Chris McCosky 01:10

Verlander's reaction to it as prideful and competitive as he is that show something what you just said it. But I mean for him to react that way not be absolutely he's probably said it to me three minutes ago, and probably that was the best thing I've heard all day, to be honest. And I heard about starting opening day. So I definitely appreciate him saying that, and I didn't expect it. So I'm excited. My whole family's got to change all their flights because they were ready to come out for the second game. Because I told her, like, look, just book your flights through everything for the second game of the season. Berlin is going to be, he'll be throwing an opening day by surprise, like I said before. It doesn't matter where you pitch, you know, those first, those top three guys, maybe that fourth, and they're all gonna get 32 starts, 33 starts. So at the end of the year, we're both gonna have the same, same amount of starts, and I hope we both pitch extremely well.

David Price 01:23

Lynn Henning 02:11

knowing that Scherzer had won the Cy Young two years ago, earlier, gathered over him last year, that caught you a little bit flush too, didn't it?

David Price 02:20

I mean, there was, there was a lot of, I guess, a lot of examples or instances that kind of made me believe that I would be throwing the second game of the season and not opening day. I mean, especially, you know, what shares are having the year he had, and then, you know, the Tigers still putting that trust in her to have that opening day. And, you know, I've been here for a month and a half, and they chose to go a different route. I'm honored. It is. It's definitely a blessing to be out there for whatever organization you're in to to throw that opening day, and for it to be at home in Comerica. You know, I think

C Chris Iott 02:55
that'll be pretty special. Why

D David Price 03:02
don't think there's any more flyovers anymore. I think that got kind of nixed. So, I mean, I'm sure it'll be a lot like game 162, you know, with the atmosphere kind of like that was my postseason start back home, you know, game three, it'll be pretty similar to those days. Just the excitement level for for baseball at that time in the year is always very big, and I'm excited to throw the first pitch for us.

A Anthony Fenech
Has he told you anything about it? I guess that's what I was trying to get at opening day Detroit's like, a somewhat of a holiday. Has he told you anything about, like, what the atmosphere is like? Just kind of like,

D David Price 03:35
No, I haven't really talked to anybody about the atmosphere in Detroit. You definitely want to feed off the atmosphere, but it's not something that I'll be really paying attention to. So hope they're loud. Tons of them cheerful. Tigers.

A Anthony Fenech
What was your first opening day like?

D David Price 03:52
2011 just against the Yankees in the trough. All three of them, they saw spring at the trial, New York, 11, Baltimore, 13 and 14.

L Lynn Henning 04:07
David, you've got to make a business decision at some point this year. Can something like this influence a business decision?

D

David Price 04:16

I don't think so. I don't think that's why they did it either put my best foot forward and when time comes to have to make that business decision, I think I will be ready for that. Until then, it's not something that I think about a quick thought to be present every day. I want to be here. I don't want to be wandering around and thinking about where I could be in eight months or six months, or however long it is, or whatever type of decision I'll have to make when time comes. But just want to have fun, play the game I love, and I'll do the best thing I can. I.